

Private Residence

Bar Harbor, Maine

Project Highlights

Baseline information provides owners with information for work.

We use the most up to date technology to give you the best results!

Baseline documentation for a house in Bar Harbor, Maine, by the Preservation Collaborative, 2010.

Front Elevation

Side Elevation

Your Project, Our Role...

The Preservation Collaborative documented a circa 1850 three-quarter house located outside Bar Harbor, Maine. This historic building was renovated into a vacation house, located within an open field at the foot of Acadia National Park.

We produced floor plans, elevations and photographic record of the existing building for future preservation work.

The Preservation Collaborative offers drawing (HABS) and photographic documentation to clients across New England. Buildings of all sizes are eligible.

The Historic American Building Survey established a baseline level of documentation for historic buildings. HABS is managed under the U.S. National Park Service.

Let us help document your historic structure today!

