Your Project, Our Role...

The Townsend Historical Society preserves the heritage of Townsend through five historic buildings.

Work documented the history of each of the Townsend Historical Society's buildings. All have important ties to their community.

Buildings vary by age, dating from the late 18th century through to the mid 19th century.

The Preservation Collaborative provides thorough documentation of historic structures through extensive research and a wealth of experience.

Our final products are compiled on inventory forms, utilized by regional planning agencies to acknowledge the historic values of existing structures.

We work with all types of clients from homeowners to large museums.
